REGIMENTAL ROSTER OF OFFICERS

First Colorado Infantry

THE GLORIOUS victory of the fleet commanded by Admiral (then Commodore) Dewey, at Manila, startled the entire civilized world and infused a new spirit into American minds and institutions. The grand achievement of our naval forces made it necessary to send an equally strong and powerful army to supplement on land the great work already commenced by Dewey. For this purpose, an army of invasion was mobilized at San Francisco, California. After some vexatious delays, one expedition after another sailed out through the Golden Gate, and across the broad Pacific. In the history of America these expeditions will be ever memorable. Never before had the United States sent an army seaward to invade a foreign country. The Regiment from Colorado sailed on the steamship China, on the second expedition. Speaking of the "boys" from Colorado, the San Francisco Illustrated Wave, which is illustrating the exploits of the regiment at Manila with great fidelity, said :

Colorado may be justly proud of her regiment of volunteers, consisting of the First Colorado Infantry, under command of Colonel Irving Hale. It is one of the best drilled, most thoroughly equipped and disciplined regiments in the camp. The illustrations are intended to show every officer and member of the regiment. The roster of officers is as follows:

Colonel, Irving Hale; Lieutenant-Colonel, H. B. McCoy, Majors, C. M. Moses and Charles H. Anderson; Major Clayton Parkhill, surgeon; Captain J. F. Kemble and Lieutenant C. E. Locke, assistant surgeons; Lieutenant A. McD. Brooks, adjutant; Lieutenant Charles S. Howard, commissary; Lieutenant W. B. Sawyer, quartermaster; Captain David L. Fleming, chaplain.
